

Scott Haas

What's my story?

With no prior musical background I took up playing keyboard in early 2009 as a new retirement activity. Not long after I started pounding the keys I started studying those left hand boogie bass lines. I decided that was for me and I elected to channel my musical efforts learning the Boogie Woogie styles of piano playing. With less than a year of self teaching behind me I decided the next logical step in my musical journey was to compose and record a few original songs. The result is "Cats Out" my first CD and yes it surely is an amateurish production and the playing and singing stinks but gee whiz you got to start somewhere. A few of the songs are my boogie arrangements of old pre 1922 classics now in the public domain. The other songs are originals and yes all vocals, keyboard playing, recording, composing, lyrics and CD artistic work is mine.
